SURPRISE! Well, we're late again! Same excuse as last time, only this go around it was Fu Man Chu's Revenge — the Hong Kong Flu.

I'd like to take this opportunity to wish one and all — SEASON'S GREETINGS! (...or, just how cheap can a guy get?)

Due to demand out-stripping supply, the print run is upped to 700, starting this issue.

This issue contains the 1968 Alley Awards Ballot. Sorry, but we can't return any of the ballots. If you can't remember what you voted for, I suggest making a duplicate.

I have several Change Of Address notices that were supposed to be in this issue, but space limitations, and the fact that much of the issue is being typed from a sick-bed (typos galore!), force me to print them next issue.

With a bit of luck, the next issue should be out in early February. We'll try!

MISCELLANEOUS BOOKS

Now available from Holt, Rinehart And Winston is the latest Peanuts $1.00 paperback, YOU'RE YOU, CHARLIE BROWN. Also available, at $4.95, is a PEANUTS TREASURY, a large, 256 page hardcover book collecting the best of the Peanuts strips. The book also has a Foreword by Johnny Hart.

The seven Hal Foster Prince Valiant novelizations are once again all available, though at a $1.20 price hike. The first, fifth and sixth books in the series have been out of print for several years, but are now being re-issued. Only the first book is not immediately available, but soon will be.

For those who have never seen the books, they are novels based on the strip, starting from the beginning and running thru about 1950. There are numerous illustrations, taken directly from the strip, accompanying the text on each page. These are the same books that some dealers are charging small fortunes for, claiming they are all out of print.

The books are $3.95 each, available from the publisher, Hastings House Publishers, 10 E. 40th St., New York, N.Y. 10016. Also available, at $3.50, is Foster's THE MEDIEVAL CASTLE.

Due out Feb. 28, 1969, from Doubleday & Co., is the fourth Modesty Blaise hardcover novel by Peter O'Donnell, TASTE FOR DEATH.

A new Man From U.N.C.L.E. novel is due out from Ace in Jan. The Hollow Crown Affair by David McDaniel is the 17th book in the series.

The next Conan book is due out from Lancer in March. This 10th book in the series is entitled Conan Of Cimmeria.

The Dec. Doc Savage release , #31, is The Annihilist. Dust Of Death is the title of the Jan. release, #32, from Bantam.

The eighth book in the Berkley Medallion series based on The Avengers TV show, THE MAGNETIC MAN by Norman Daniels (#X-1637, 60¢), is now available.

The third title in John Norman's Gor series, PRIEST-KINGS OF GOR (# 72015, 75¢), is now available from Ballantine Books.

The second and third Mod Squad books, both by Richard Demming and both 60¢, are now available from Pyramid Books. No. 2 is A Groovy Way To Die (#X-1908); No. 3 is The Sock-it To-"Em Murders (#X-1922).

The third Captain Future book, Outlaw World by Edmond Hamilton is due out in Jan., and the fourth, Quest Beyond The Stars, also by Hamilton, is due out in Feb.; both books from Popular Library.

The Harvey Kurtzman book on the art of comics, mentioned here last issue, probably will not see print until Fall of 1969.

KID COLT is a copyrighted character of Marvel Comics.

The new 25¢ Western title is being held up until they have 3 or 4 completed issues on hand. (That is the new policy Marvel is initiating for all forth-coming new titles.) The book will probably feature 5 - ten page strips. The strips should include The Ghost Rider; Half-Breed, a new strip; a somewhat changed version of Bill Everett's Negro-Indian "Dark Arrow" strip; and two others. If the sales of 25¢ books in general does not prove favorable, the material will be split up into two new 12¢ers.

Coming up in Not Brand Ecch is a take-off on Deadman, called "Deadpan," drawn by Gene Colon. Reportedly, part of the satire will include tombstones with recently defunct DC characters' names on them.

Yellowjacket will stay with the Avengers and Hawkeye will become Goliath. Don't ask me what it means! Buy the book and find out!!

Seeing the success DC is having with its teenage line, Marvel is venturing more into that field. January will see the release of Mad With Millie, a 25¢er, bi-monthly I believe. There will also be a new 12¢ teenage title in February. If they know a good thing when they see it, the success of National's supernatural titles should give them an idea or two.

Although issue # 13, art by Herb Trimpe and Sam Grainger, has been completed, the last issue of Agent Of S.H.I.E.L.D. will probably be # 12.

NATIONAL--DC

There has been some more editorial changes at DC.. Mike Sekowsky has taken over editorship of Wonder Woman and Metal Men. Dick Giordano and Joe Orlando have traded editorship on Secret Hearts and Heart Throbs. Dick now has the latter; Joe the former.

National moved into its new quarters at 909 Third Avenue this past December first. There are no provisions for any sort of tour arrangement at present, so there's no sense in trying to go up to the office; you'll only be turned away. If any tours are to be scheduled, you'll read about it here.

Alex Toth will not be doing the Enemy Ace strip after all. Instead he will be doing non-series assignments for Joe Kubert's war books, among others. (For Toth fans, he has a story in Young Love # 73, due out Jan. 14th.) Neal Adams did a rush job penciling Enemy Ace for issue # 144, thus taking some of the pressure off a very busy Joe Kubert, who had only to ink the job. Neal drew the strip in the Kubert style, and with Joe's inking, the difference is not too apparent.

Artie Saff, an artist of the Golden Age (I can't tag his name to any specific strip; can anyone out there help me?), is working on miscellaneous stories for Joe Orlando and Murray Boltinoff and regularly on the Hunter's Hellcats strip for Joe Kubert. Ed Barr, who used to illustrate war comics in English publications, is now working on fillers for the war books. Ed Robbins, who illustrated the syndicated Mike Hammer strip, and who hasn't done any comics work in the past 10 years, is also working on the war comics fillers. Though not yet definate, Lou Fine may be doing covers for the DC books in the future.

Al Williamson is doing a cover for House Of Mystery. Win Mortimer is now doing art for Scooter and will soon be handling the Supergirl strip. Robert Kanigher is writting for the Superman family of books. He has already turned in scripts for Lois Lane and World's Finest. Neal Adams has done the covers for the March Batman and Detective titles.

Due to a bit of confusion on my part, the listings for the Our Army At War title may be out of order. If so, I apologize!

FOR THOSE WHO MISSED IT, and there may be a few, Neal Adams drew two "hidden" special illos into the Deadman story in Strange Adventures # 216. On page 13, hold the book level to your eyes and take a good look at the bottom panel. On page 15, hold the book away from you and consider the page as a whole. Enjoy, ENJOY!

The upcoming SHOWCASE line-up at present is this:- # 81) The Way-Out World Of Windy & Willy, a teenage strip; # 82) Nightmaster, a Sword & Sorcery strip by Denny O'Neil; # 83) an Indian strip by Joe Kubert. The Indian strip is one of the features and strip ideas Carmine Infantino has stored away in his draw for future use. Bat Lash is one of the past "draw graduates." Joe Orlando, Mike Sekowsky and Mort Weisinger all have new strips in the works for future issues of Showcase. There'll be a striking new logo for the title in the near future.

DC SPECIAL # 4 will be an All Joe Kubert Issue.

In Brave & Bold # 84 Batman teams up with Sgt. Rock. If all goes as planned, this will be the inexperienced, pre-Robin Batman; costume, equiptment, et al!

The Phantom Stranger and Windy & Willy have already been set for their own books.

To celebrate the 30th anniversary of Batman, Detective # 387 will reprint the very first 6 page Batman story, "The Case Of The Chemical Syndicate." The 17 page new Batman story in the issue was written by Mike Friedrich, and is an up-dated version of that first story.

When her husband is killed, Black Canary leaves Earth - Two to Join the JLA, replacing Wonder Woman. JLA # 71 marks the departure of J'onn J'onzz from the strip. Incidentally, the book was finished and ready to go to the printer when the title had to be changed. The story WAS called "Some Say The World Will End In Fire.....Some Say In Ice!".....then Avengers # 61 came out.... The title is now "...And So My World Ends!"

Neal Adams will be handling both writing and illustrating chores for most of the upcoming three-part Teen Titans tale. The Hawk and The Dove guest-star in the last two books of the story.

Wonder Woman will have no perminent boy friend, at least for the present. Characters like Tim Trench will be transitory in the strip, changing every so often. Diana will return to Paradise Island in issue # 183, at least for two issues. Seems her mother's in a bit of a jam. The book, incidentally, has been selling very well since the change-over. It has gone from the worst-selling position in the line to one of the best.

All the story threads that have been building up in the Aquaman saga over the past few issues will be tied-up when he finally finds Mera in issue # 46. Jerry Lewis Meets The Flash in issue # 112 of Jerry's magazine. House Of Mystery and Leave It To Binky will feature all new material from now on. A new humor strip about a Hippie family called The Flowers starts in A Date With Debbi # 2. The Unexpected gets its third regular feature, called Judge Gallows, starting soon.

LATE NEWS Here are three late items I have not been able to check out with the editors, but the news source is reliable. 1) The Hawk and The Dove will be canceled; # 6 is the probable last issue. 2) The Spectre will be canceled; # 10 or # 11 will probably be the last issue. 3) House Of Secrets will be revived under Dick Giordano's editorship as a supernatural book. More complete details next issue.

For new readers: The number in parenthesis following a listing indicates the month/day of that title's release date.

OUR ARMY AT WAR (No. 204, Mar.) Sgt. Rock introduces reprint stories which have in common the fact that they are all set in pre-World War II eras. (1/2)

TOMAHAWK (No. 121, Apr.) "To Kill A Ranger." "Aim Your Cannons At Me." Those are the titles of the stories in this issue. It's just a coincidence that it sounds as if there should be a comma between the two of them. (1/2)

WONDER WOMAN (No. 181, Apr.) Diana, I. Ching, and Tim Trench face "The Wrath Of Dr. Cyber." Any resemblance between Diana Prince and Diana Rigg.....certainly couldn't hurt!! (1/2)

AQUAMAN (No. 44, Apr.) An "Underworld Reward" is issued for the sea king, in an adventure that takes Aquaman far from his watery stamping grounds. (1/2)

SUPERBOY (No. 154, Mar.) There's a "Blackout For Superboy" due this issue. (1/7)

HOUSE OF MYSTERY (No. 179, Apr.) Featured story for this issue is "Widow's Walk" (an especially fine story, I'm told), written by Howie Post, penciled by Neal Adams and inked by Joe Orlando. Also in the issue is Berni Wrightson's first story for National, one of the Cain's Case-File series. (1/7)

ACTION (No. 373, Apr.)(Supergirl Giant # 57) Stories this issue deal with Supergirl's encounters with the varied characters of the Superman "family." They are: Battle Of The Super-Pets; The Bride Of Mr. Mxyzptlk; Supergirl's Farewell To Earth; The War Between Supergirl & The Superman Emergency Squad, and Supergirl's Greatest Challenge. (1/7)

OUR FIGHTING FORCES (No. 118, Apr.) Hunter's Hellcat's meet "Hell Under Water" when they don frogman gear to destroy a huge underwater Nazi storage depot. This is the first Hellcat's story with art by Artie Saff. (1/9)

JIMMY OLSEN (No. 118, Mar.) Jimmy is gifted (or is it cursed) with "The Touch Of Life," the power to bring to life any picture he touches. Also in the issue is"Jimmy Olsen's Hippie Hate-In." (1/9)

GREEN LANTERN (No. 67, Mar.) "Green Lantern Does His Ring Thing" again this issue. The issue also features the premiere of the Tales Of The Power Ring series, "The First Green Lantern." (1/9)

ANGEL AND THE APE (No. 3, Apr.) Angel investigates "The Curse Of The Avarice Clan," while Stan Bragg plots revenge against Sam. (1/14)

JERRY LEWIS (No. 111, Apr.) The two stories for this time around are The Case Of The Jolly Queen Giant," and "A Creep In The Deep." (1/14)

BATMAN (No. 210, Mar.) Catwoman's back in a new costume and a new car, the Cat-o-lac, both designed by Frank Robbins. Selina Kyle recruits 8 other "Feline Furies" in "The Case Of The Purr-Loined Pearl." (1/16)

THE FLASH (No. 186, Mar.) Professor Zoom, the Reverse-Flash of the future, teams up with Sargon The Sorcerer, the Golden Age DC hero, to battle The Flash in a Mike Friedrich script called, "Time Times Three = ?" The question is whether or not the DC old-timer is really hero or villain. (1/16)

THE SPECTRE (No. 9, Apr.) This is the first issue under Dick Giordano's editorship. The lead story, written by Mike Friedrich and illustrated by Jerry Grandenetti and Bill Draut, is entitled "The Journal Of Judgement." When the Spectre kills a mortal in anger, the Voice (or God, if you insist) punishes him by making the Astral Avenger pass judgement over the fates of people whose names appear in The Book Of The Spectre; thereby hoping to teach the ghost the value of human life. Also in the issue are two short stories: "Abra Kadoom" written by Denny O'Neil and illustrated by Berni Wrightson; and "Shadow Show" written by Mark Hanerfeld and illustrated by Jack Sparling. (1/21)

THE CREEPER (No. 6, Apr.) This final issue of Creeper is titled, Aptly enough, "A Time To Die!" The Proteus sequence is finally resolved. Steve Ditko was only able to pencil the first 11 pages of this book, and the art chores were completed by Jack Sparling. (1/21)

TEEN TITANS (No. 20, Apr.)"The Titans Fit The Battle Of Jerico!" in this first of a 3-book length story. Neal Adams supplies script and inking over Nick Cardy pencils. (1/21)

STRANGE ADVENTURES (No. 217, Apr.) This is the first reprint issue back under the editorship of Julius Schwartz. The first Adam Strange tale, "Secret Of The Eternal City," and the first half of "The Rise Of The Atomic Knights" are reprinted. (1/21)

WORLD'S FINEST (No. 183, Mar.) In "Superman's Crime Of The Ages," Batman learns that The Man Of Steel will commit an horrendous crime against the world in the future, and tries to prevent the occurance by accusing Superman of the deed before the United Nations assembled. The Editor's Roundtable is "The Ghost Planet." (1/23)

JUSTICE LEAGUE OF AMERICA (No. 70, Mar.) The JLA become involved with The Creeper, and if you look real hard, you might even spot The Mind Grabber Kid. (1/23)

SHOWCASE (No. 81, Mar.) The Way-Out World Of Windy And Willy is DC's newest teen-title. Reprinted Bob Oksner artwork, somewhat changed, is being used for this series. Windy And Willy are already scheduled for their own book. The editor is Dick Giordano. (1/23)

ANTHRO (No. 5, Apr.) Rushing down the "River Of No Return," Anthro becomes seperated from his family and runs into a spot of trouble with some bears. (1/23)

ACTION (No. 374, Mar.) Still searching for his true secret identity, The Man Of Steel takes on the identity of a criminal in, "Alias Super-Theif!" There's "No Mercy For Supergirl" when she goes on trial for killing a butterfly and a plant! (1/28)

ADVENTURE (No. 378, Mar.) Five Legionnaires are poisoned and have "Twelve Hours To Live" in this first of a 2 part story. (1/30)

DETECTIVE (No. 385, Mar.) Bob Kanigher wrote this month's Batman tale, "Die Small — Die Big!" The second part of last month's Batgirl saga is entitled, "Hunt For The Helpless Hostage." (1/30)

OUR ARMY AT WAR (No. 205, Apr.) "There's A War On!" A psychological war the enemy is waging to break Sgt. Rock. (2/4)

CHALLENGERS OF THE UNKNOWN (No. 67, May) There are two new stories in this issue, "Ace - The Beast In The Bomb," and "The Dream Killers." (2/4)

THE ATOM & HAWKMAN (No. 42, May) Denny O'Neil wrote this novel-length Atom - Hawkman tale entitled, "When Gods Make Madness!" (2/4)

SECRET SIX (No. 7, May) Carlo is the featured player in this last issue's story, "An Eye For An Eye!"Unfortunately, this issue was already in production when the word came down that this would be the final book, and an ending revealing who Mockingbird really is could not be written in time. (2/4)

SUPERMAN (No. 215, Apr.) There is an imaginary novel this issue, "Lois Lane — Dead Yet Alive!" NO! Not Deadwoman! (2/6)

THE UNEXPECTED (No. 112, May) Johnny Peril battles "The Brain Robbers," The Mad, Mod Witch tale is entitled, "Burn, Match, Burn!" Also in the issue is a story called,"The Corpse That Didn't Die." (2/6)

G.I. COMBAT (No. 135, May) The men of the Haunted Tank find that "Death Is The Joker" in the card game of war. (It' been a long, hard day!) (2/11)

DC SPECIAL (No. 3, Jun.) The theme of this issue is "The Fabulous Females." Reprinted is Supergirl Vs. "The Maid Of Menace," "The Secret Life Of Star Sapphire," (from Green Lantern # 16), "The Girl In The Golden Flame," (from Strange Adventures). However, the real treat in the issue is the publication of two previously unprinted GOLDEN AGE stories that have been in the DC Written Off files for two decades. They are:- Wonder Woman in "The Cheetah's Thought Prisoners" (originally scheduled for Comic Cavalcade # 24), and Black Canary in "Special Delivery Death" (originally scheduled for Flash Comics # 108 or # 110). (2/11)

METAL MEN (No. 37, May) The Metal Men take on human identities in "To Walk Among Men!", a new series twist plotted by Len Wein, dialogued by Denny O'Neil, and illustrated by Mike Sekowsky. (2/13)

LOIS LANE (No. 91, Apr.) "Love Is Blind" is an imaginary novel in which Lois weds Superman, after which she is widowed and blinded. When a new suitor arrives on the scene, there is a beauty and the beast twist to twist to the story. (2/13)

THE FLASH (No. 187, May)(Giant #G-58) The theme of this giant is Doom Day For The Flash. The stories reprinted are: The Man Who Stole Central City; Return Of The Mirror Master; Case Of The Rel-Gore Flash; and Mystery Of Flash's Third Identity. (2/13)

DEBBI'S DATES (No.1, May) This new bi-monthly teen title is the companion magazine to A Date With Debbi. (2/18)

STAR-SPANGLED WAR STORIES (No. 144, May) Neal Adams penciled and Joe Kubert inked this issue's Enemy Ace Story, "Death Takes No Holiday," in which the French flyers masquerade in bizarre costumes in order to play upon the superstitions of Von Hammer's squadron. (2/18)

MAGICMAN is a copyrighted character of the American Comics Group.

GOLD KEY

There have been some changes made at Gold Key. Matt Murphy, the former head of Western's comics line has moved up to another job and Wally Green, his former assistant, has taken over the top job. Dr. Solar will soon be dropped from the line. The issue on sale in April, number 28, will be the last issue. Star Trek will go on a quarterly schedule, but will carry no co-feature since 2nd class mailing privilages were not applied for. That also means no subscriptions. Both Gunsmoke and Daffy Duck will become bi-monthlies, and the former title will carry new material. The second issue of Dark Shadows is set for May release, and it will be the standard 32 page, 15¢ size. On the drawing board is a 50¢ Golden Comics Digest, similar to the Walt Disney's Comic Digest now available. The book will contain liscenced material of Warner Brothers, M-G-M and Walter Lantz. Wild, Wild West will be published regularly. I am including the December listings, despite the lateness of this issue, for those who want to be sure of getting all their favorites.

DECEMBER RELEASES: Tarzan # 182; Korak # 27; Space Family Robinson # 32; Dark Shadows # 1; Twilight Zone # 28; Boris Karloff # 25; Three Stooges # 42; Walt Disney's Comics & Stories #341; Uncle Scrooge # 79; Scamp # 2; Moby Duck # 5; Daffy Duck # 56; Porky Pig # 22; Tweety & Sylvester # 10; The Flintstones # 50; Little Lulu # 191; Top Cat # 25.

JANUARY RELEASES: Dr. Solar # 27; Turok # 65; The Man From U.N.C.L.E. # 22 - a reprint issue; Land Of The Giants # 3; Hanna-Barbera Super TV Heroes # 5; Wild, Wild West # 5; Lone Ranger # 14; Daniel Boone # 15; Walt Disney's Swiss Family Robinson - a reprint released in conjunction with the re-release of the movie; Walt Disney's Comics & Stories # 342; Donald Duck # 124; Chip And Dale # 3; Bugs Bunny # 122; Beep Beep # 11; Yogi Bear # 36; Huckleberry Hound # 37.

Comicon News

As many of you know by know, the Comicon in New York scheduled for this past Thanksgiving Day weekend did not come off. Unfortunately, due to trouble with the hotel (they scheduled oth events in the Con rooms during parts of the Convention period), suitable arrangements could not be made. Attempts were made to secure other accommodations, but all hotels were either unavailable or too expensive for the Con budget.

I'd just like to remind any Con Committees out there that TCR will plug any Comicon (for free of course!) if you'll send u full particulars (date, site, price, program, etc.) in time to include them in the magazine. Mailing the info to me 2 or 3 week prior to the scheduled mailing date of the next issue should insure its inclusion in that issue.

Golden Age, The 3—Nov. 14, 28 pgs, Gordon B. Love, 9875 S.W. 212 St., Miami, Fla., 33157. Litho, $1.50, The material is first rate, but the very high price makes it only worthwhile to those who really have an extra $1.50 to spend on it, or else want to do their bit toward making it worthwhile for Mr. Love to continue publication. Mr. Love says the high price is necessary in order to pay the cost of putting out this high quality publication, and that unless he can get circulation up to 5 or 6 hundred per issue he'll be forced to discontinue publication. Mr. Love can be complimented for giving fandom a chance to purchase a top quality zine; but even if he has to charge a dollar and a half for 28 pages to make it a worthwhile project for him to indulge in, fortunately fans can already purchase equally top quality zines containing more pages for a lot less money. For example, one can get two issues of Star Studded Comics or Graphic Story Magazine for $1.50, or three issues of Gosh Wow for the same price. Love has good intentions, but he is asking too high a price for his publication & I don't see how he can come near getting 500 persons to pay 5¢ a page for the material it contains.

Green Vomit, The 2½—Oct. 25, 8(4) pgs, Bob Gale, 8250 Groby Rd., University City, Missouri, 63132. Ditto, 5¢ stamp or free to subscribers, worth it to subbers. This is the final issue.

Palantiri (formerly Comic Club News) 12—Oct. 24, 12 pgs, Gabe Eisenstein, 1753 Rosemary Rd., Highland Park, Ill., 60035. Litho, 30(10), The pub is now a "multi-zine" & worth it to those who enjoy the entire contents & hardly worth it to the strictly comics fen, unless you believe that the little over a page in length copy of the text of Stan Lee's appearance on the Dick Cavett TV show for May 31,'68 & the half page review of the Captain America paperback novel was worth the tab to you.
